++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain this morning, then drier conditions arriving. Windy at times.

Today:
Rain at first, often heavy. Later this morning cloudy but drier conditions will arrive across southern areas, then gradually spread north this afternoon, although rain is likely to persist across the Peak District. Windy at times. Milder than recent days. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Generally cloudy, dry, breezy and mild. However, rain is likely to persist across the Peak District, locally heavy, before further outbreaks of rain possibly reach other northern areas later. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Sunday:
Outbreaks of light rain and drizzle, already across northern areas, will move gradually southeastwards across the region. Brighter conditions with isolated showers are likely to follow across Derbyshire later. Warm. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Sunny spells and scattered showers each day, these mainly in the afternoon and evenings and sometimes heavy and perhaps thundery. Temperatures will be close to, or slightly below, normal.
